In Pictures:* Loft-style home in landmark Fulham building seeks £5.5mn

NEWS 12 Jul, 2023

A dramatic glass-sided garage steals the show in this 5,500 sq ft slice of a converted laundry.

Agents have brought an eye-catching instruction to market in Fulham, SW London.

The 4,200 sq ft slice of the converted Loud and Western laundry building is seeking £5.5mn via boutique firm Harwood Advisory.

Bought in shell-and-core condition by the current vendors, the three-storey property has been turned into a luxury family home with five bedrooms and large-scale lateral entertaining space.

The open-plan reception room is elevated by a “dramatic” glass-sided display garage – likened to an art installation – and other noteworthy features included a grand staircase, Roundhouse kitchen and roof terrace.

The striking Edwardian building on Broughton Road was repurposed as a set of huge loft-style houses by Nicholson and Verve about ten years ago.
